

Bradley Jay Thomas

July 3, 2019

Bradley Jay Thomas of Fort Collins, Colorado born on October 3, 1975, died on July 3, 2019 at the age of 43. Our Heavenly Father came and peacefully carried Brad to a place of light, peace, and overwhelming love. After nine months of metastatic lung cancer, Brad is now breathing deeply and clearly in heaven. He leaves behind his wife of 17 years, Aisha Thomas, and his three children; his favorite oldest, 12 years, his favorite middle child, 6 years, and his favorite son, 5 years. He is also remembered by his mother, Jeannette; his father, Gerald; his younger brother, Chris, and many family members and friends. Brad served his family as a stay-at-home dad for six years and was previously a graphic designer at Colorado State University, where he also earned his Bachelor's in Fine Arts and Graphic Design in 2002. Brad was an active member of Crossroads Church Loveland and loved all things music, art, Star Wars, and disc golf. Brad's easy-going nature, quick wit, and great hugs will be missed by many. In lieu of flowers/gifts, we ask for a donation in his name to Inheritance of Hope, an organization that supports families of parents coping with terminal illness. <https://inheritanceofhope.org/>

“ True friends are the ones who never leave your heart, even if they leave your life for a while. Even after years apart, we'd pick up with each other right where we left off. We each missed critical events that shaped our lives, but I will always cherish the moments from the quintessential life of growing up together. Rest in Peace my friend. #UnderTheMilkyWay

“ Brad was the recipe for kindness and understanding, he was all you needed whether or not you knew it. You definitely felt it, quite often no words were required. Just togetherness...
