“ Dear John,
We were very saddened to hear of Carole's passing.
Our deepest sympathies to you all.
What is lovely never dies, but passes into another loveliness, star-dust or sea-foam, flower or winged air." —Thomas Bailey Aldrich
Carole's loveliness will live on in her beautiful family.
We will keep you all in our prayers.

“ A toast to a wonderful sister

As sisters, Carole and I shared the same bedroom. So naturally we were very close. Carole was seven years my senior a second mom. But time moved on and Carole went to college and later fell in love with John, her rock. They move around throughout the country as work opportunities became available. And in the meantime they raised three smart and handsome boys.

One might think that all this travel made it difficult to reestablish your roots, but not for Carole. She embraced the adventure and always sought to bring out the strength of each community she lived in. Whether it was getting caught in Mt. St Helens volcanic ash in Washington, the Tex-Mex in New Mexico or cheering on “Her Rockies” baseball team in Colorado. She always displayed the resilience to each situation.

To Carole, what most might consider challenges she viewed them as opportunities to display her true love for her family. She was a true team player.

Most people found diamonds at the jewelry store not Carole, she found them in her family. Most notably in her granddaughters. Her loving concern in how her granddaughters fared in school as well as how they performed on in sports. To how her preschooler was doing in her overall development. There was always a co-parental support she displayed.

Oh my dear Carole, how we already miss you. We will miss your guiding light. I will miss our telephone conversations as well our impromptu road trips to Charleston and Aruba. I will always remember what you have taught me over our lifetimes. Love yah Sis, Connie
