“ I met and worked for Don in 1993. In 1994 we became business partners. That was the best business decision I ever made. Don's work was top quality and that made me better too. What stands out for me as well was his honesty and that too made an impression on me. I can say he was one of the most honest people I have ever met. Our business relationship lasted for over 20 years and our friendship never ended. He will be missed.
