

Julia (Julie) Brown

November 27, 2021

Julia Brown, 73, died November 27, 2021 at sunset with her children by her side in Fort Collins, Colorado.

Julia, who went by Julie, was born to Jack and Gloria Cox December 31, 1947 in Fresno, California. Julie was raised with her sisters in Fresno where they attended Hoover High School. Julie has kept in touch with a handful of ladies throughout the years from Hoover High. She has been on some amazing adventures with these cherished friends throughout the years including Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand and Alaska. Julie lived in Alaska for 28 years, it is where she raised her children. She enjoyed her summers fishing on the Kenai River and winters skiing on Mount Alyeska, sledding, knitting and crafting while running an in-home daycare. In 2013 she moved to Fort Collins where she has made many friends. She was a woman of many talents, from making jewelry to reupholstering furniture. She enjoyed gardening on a nice summer day. Her favorite thing to do was spend time with those she loved. She was one of those women who was truly a mom to everyone. No matter your journey in life, she accepted and loved you.

Julie is survived by her children and their life partners. Nathan Brown and Stacy Story, Courtney and Victor Chavez and Justin and Colby Perry. Her grandchildren Camlyn Robbins, Saleyna Chavez, Savannah Chavez, Sierra Chavez, Jamie Perry and Ashley Perry and her great grandchildren Clementine Jewel and Sophia Jewel and her cat that she loved so much, Mokey.

Julie was preceded in death by her parents Jack and Gloria, Her sister Donna Harrison and Kim Matson and daughter Melynda Robbins.

A celebration of life will be held Saturday, December 11, 2021 at 11am at Timberline Church in Fort Collins, CO. Reception to follow.

“ Julie was one of my first friends at Hoover High School when my family moved to Fresno so many years ago. Her giggle was so infectious, and she made those teenage years especially fun. Life took us both out of California, and we surprisingly reconnected in the Seattle area where our families enjoyed many sweet memories the Lord gave us. Later we shared fishing fun in Alaska due to their gracious invitations. She was an amazingly resilient gal throughout her many challenges life brought her. Julie will be missed greatly by us and so many other lives she touched. I only wish I had managed to see her more in recent years. Our love and prayers are with you, dear Ones. Marsha and Jim Trower

“ I was blessed to have Julie as a dear lifetime friend, beginning in junior high. We were pep girls together at Hoover High. And I was part of her travel group in more recent years. Julie was a precious, sweet, fun, strong woman of faith. She loved to laugh, to go on adventures and to reminisce about the good ole days. She adored her family and cherished her friends. I will miss her very much.

“ I had the awesome pleasure of knowing Julie since junior high. I think of her as a pep girl shaking her pom poms at Hoover football games! And I was blessed to spend time with Julie in Hawaii a few months ago. She was tired, but that little sweet spark still came out to make Ann and I smile! God bless you, Julie! With love, Sharan
