“ I first met Rose coming down the elevator at Younkers department store in Des Moines. Couldn't miss that beautiful red hair! Fate would find us together that Fall at Roberts Hall, ISU, where we shared many fun new experiences. Later, we would travel together, from my trip to Goose Lake, Iowa, where Rose had started her teaching career, to backpacking Europe together. Rose helped me to hop out of my small town world to experiencing a bigger world and interesting new people. Rose was fearless in that regard! She, indeed, followed her mother's advice to go ahead and do it. She will be missed, remembered, and loved by so many of us. My sincere condolences to family and friends.

“ I was blessed to work alongside Rose at Emma Love Hardee Elementary School in Fernandina Beach, Florida. We were team teachers in the Communities in Schools program at Fernandina Beach Middle School for several years. Her passion for her students was infectious and her caring for all those she met endeared her to those who were fortunate to know her. I will always remember her radiant smile and pray that she is enjoying the heavenly reward she so justly earned. Rest in peace my friend.

“ One of the most precious memories I have of my freshman year at college is sharing a room with Rose. She slept on the top bunk, and I can still hear her weary voice saying goodnight at the end of a long day as she turned off the light and climbed “upstairs” to her bed. Several years later, our group from the dorm lived together again—I had a downstairs room, and Rose was upstairs once more. More to the point, Rose was always “up”: her energy, wit, and ability to laugh at others helped all of us when times got rough. Although our group lost touch for many years after college, we reunited some 40 years later and gathered at several reunions, one of which was at Rose’s home in FL. I am so thankful for those opportunities to reconnect with her, laugh again with her, see that twinkle in her eye as she let out a creative quip or bantered about the injustices of the world. While her free spirit will always circle my head and live in my heart “durante los años que me quedan por vivir,” as Gloria Estefan’s song goes, my wish today is that her family find strength in the knowledge that she was loved by everyone whose life she touched in her special way and that she rest in peace.

“ I worked with Ms. Bennett for a number of years. She was my first Support Teacher during my Internship. I learned so much and grew to love her and her passion for teaching. Rest now Ms, Bennett. No more worries and no more tears,

“ To all of Rose's family,
I was shocked and saddened to hear of Rose's passing. Rose was one of the six of us who were assigned to Roberts Hall our freshman year at Iowa State. We quickly bonded and formed a tight knit group. I remember her as fun, caring, and always singing along with the radio or an album. She was silly and thoughtful at the same time. It was wonderful when we were all able to reconnect forty plus years later and reminisce fondly about the years we spent at Iowa State. While there are no words to express for your unimaginable loss I know your family, friends, and strong faith will help you during this difficult time. May God hold you all in His loving embrace and may Rose rest In peace.

“ Very sorry to hear about Rose's death. Since Rose and I were born the same year, we had a special bond. We always enjoyed seeing one another and playing Grandma Switzer's piano and singing Christmas songs. For many years Rose and I were pen pals. It was always a treat to receive her letters. She had a kind heart and spirit. Even though I didn't see Rose for many years, I still have many happy memories of her. My thoughts are with Beth, June, and Keith and their families. Hold on to your memories of Rose.
