“ Fred and I wanted to express our sincere sympathies to all of Ann's family. What a gracious and fine lady Ann was and what a legacy of life celebration she lived. We will always see her little smile with that twinkle in her eyes.

*Most sincerely,
Fred and Leslie Frantz*

“ A special memory I have of Ann is when she, as mayor of Fort Collins, came to the CSU President's Reception for International Students, students who had just arrived from their countries to study at our university. After the President welcomed them, Ann, representing the city, extended the city's welcome to them and helped them realize that this new home of theirs would be a friendly, welcoming place. Many students later told me how much it meant to them to have the Mayor of the city give them her personal and the city's greetings. What a fine representative she was.

“ To Azari Family,
We wish to express out deepest and sincere condolence. I will truely miss Ann's laughter on Sunday mornings, while you all would be enjoying your tea or coffee in your gazabo. I would see her tenderly pick one of the beautiful roses in your yard and knew she new how to enjoy life. God be with the family. Jack and Irene

“ Victoria,
From my early days in Fort Collins, your Mom sort of represented Fort Collins to me. She really cared about the city, and people in it. She was sincere and genuine, when I met her in Jax, even to a young married guy living in duplex, new to town. Your acquaintance, music lesson and Froodle friend, Bill Greenlee

Sorry for your loss, thank you for the violin lessons and being such a great person, Riley Greenlee

“ There comes a person along once in a lifetime that can see the needs of others and Ann was one of those people. She was intelligent, humorous, kindly and creative. I pray that her friends and family remember those enduring traits and follow in those footsteps. Love you Ann, be happy in your beautiful place.

“ Ann will be remembered as a giving person, with family first, friends next and community always and little for herself. Her husband Dr. Paul, and children are testimoney to her successes in life. We have lost a smiling pillar of our city and a friend to us all. God will certainly know of her role on earth as a deciple of his love.

~Rossiter Worthington Raymond

When I was a teenager, in Ft. Collins in the 70's, I had saved my babysitting money to purchase an item from the Caspian. Ann seemed pleased that I had planned and worked to buy something from her store. She was very kind to me when I was young and I thought she was the type of lady I would like to grow up to be. She was a bright light.

Victoria and family our thoughts are with you.

“ I echo the tributes to Ann, who had a great civic spirit. She helped us to form a more accepting community and to take advantage of cultural and international diversity at the same time that we faced the normal basic problems of running a town. Thank you Ann.

“ I remember being in the Azari's home in the '60's teaching kids about biology and geology and how warm it was with her presence. I remember all their children played instruments. It was a wonderful view into an international family for a naive small-town girl.

“ It will never matter how much wealth one accumulates during a lifetime. What matters is the lives one touches along the way. Ann touched many lives, in many ways - all positive. It's been over 30 years since I worked with her through the Mountain Prairie Girl Scout Council. I still think of her and value the difference she made in the lives of girls and other volunteers. She had a vision bigger than most people can imagine and she worked to accomplish it. She will be missed and she will be remembered.

“ Ann has been and will always be a source of inspiration for me and all others who have known her. She wanted to bring out the best in all around her, never worrying that she might be outshone. Her goal was to leave things better than they were, whether that was her community or her family. I will remember her infectious sense of humor, her bright eyes, and warm heart. Love to you all.

“ To all of Ann's friends and colleagues who have graciously shared your appreciation of Ann's life and contributions, her family says thank you.

A leader is only as great as the community of people who are willing to listen and to believe. Fort Collins is a great community, not only because of the leadership, but because of the people who live and work here and keep the vision of our town alive and position.

“ Ann was in charge of the "Building Your Own Theology" class at church when Roy Jones was on sabbatical. I was fortunate to take the class. Ann had a wealth of religious experiences to help guide us to build our own answers to the major religious questions. Ann helped me clarify my religious beliefs through the exercises such as a "Spiritual Autobiography." Because of her class, I was able to join the Foothills Unitarian Church without any question.

We worked together on a committee to create the Poudre School District 2000 Bond and Mill Levy that passed resoundingly. Ann particularly stressed how PSD could work together with the community and other organizations to serve the same needs.

Ann will be missed in the church, school district, and community.
