

David Lynn Heyman

July 30, 2020

Dave Heyman, born December 28, 1950, passed away July 30, 2020, peacefully at home with his family in Fort Collins, Colorado. He is survived by his wife, MaryAnne (Hug) Heyman, of Fort Collins, Colorado. He is also survived by his children's families, including Claire and Matthew Boyles, of Loveland, Colorado; Zac Hug and Daniel Park, of Los Angeles, California; as well as Maggie and Daniel Hotch, of Klukwan, Alaska. Known as Pop to his grandchildren, Madzie, Simon, Raven, Michaelene, and David Anthony, Dave leaves behind a legacy of kindness, grit, and patience.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, to Ruth (Camp) Heyman and Delbert Heyman, Dave attended St. Paul's High School, as did his surviving siblings: John Heyman, Cathy Mellen, Marcia Strall, and Sue Fenwick. Dave was an All-American High School Football player in 1968, served in the United States Army, and later worked for Hug Concrete Paving in Norwalk. Despite numerous health challenges throughout his life, Dave Heyman was always the loudest laugh in any room.

An active swimmer, Dave Heyman loved sunbathing, Pepsi, The Simpsons, having a dog around the house, and the Green Bay Packers. He took great delight in making a baby in a stroller laugh whenever he got the chance. He was an ardent optimist and had two favorite words: "patience" and "MaryAnne." The Heymans spent the better part of their marriage in a relentless pursuit of happiness: traveling the United States, moving their family to Lake Tahoe, and finally settling in Fort Collins, Colorado. Though medical personnel often referred to MaryAnne as his “primary caregiver,” Dave was always adamant that they call her his wife. They were married for 46 years.

An online celebration of Dave’s life will be held on August 23rd that will go live at 3pmPT/6pmET (so 4pm Colorado time). Access the online celebration here: <https://www.daveheymanmemorial.com>. In lieu of flowers, donations can be sent to Operation Homefront, which helps provide housing for veterans and military families at operationhomefront.org.

“ Dave, we will miss your laugh and sense of humor. I close my eyes and still heard you laughing 4 houses away, at Seinfeld, even tho you seen that episode 7 times. But let's not forget when Jim and I got us all removed by two police from the theater in Truckee while we were watching Huckleberry Finn PG movie because we told the manager we weren't leaving while you ate your pizza in an empty theater an hour before the movie even started. Oh the memories! You were our best friend that changed mine and Jim's lives. We will miss you.

“MaryAnne, I think I met Dave only once or twice at your home. The Celebration of his life I just watched was an amazing tribute to him, and to your entire family! Zac's eulogy and the readings/reflections by your girls demonstrated a deep love and respect for Dave that is seldom found today. I wish I could give you a hug, but I guess Zoom meetings will have to do for now. Prayers for comfort as you all grieve his passing and adjust to life without him.

“*So many memories of Dave from so many years. His entry into Heaven had to have been glorious and just imagine the splendid audience who awaited him!
Your wonderful family loved and appreciated his unique life. No dad prouder, no granddad more enthralled with the antics of the young ones, no Flyer happier to see his old team-mates, no star shone brighter than the love shared with MaryAnne.
Thank you for sharing this tribute! Thank you for being his legacy.*

“I didn't have the honor of meeting Mr. Heyman, but I feel like I knew him through Zac's stories about him. Zac would have us all cackling as he told us about his Dad's incomparable wit and patience. I am so sorry but am also deeply moved by love of this incredible family - I don't think any man has ever been loved more than you all loved Mr. Heyman.

“ My cousin David was six years older than I and I always saw him as larger than life. I remember going to watch his various high school sporting events and he was so big and tall and seemed like a superstar. I could not believe it would have been possible for someone like him could be injured like he was in the accident. I remember sitting with MaryAnne and David at a wedding a short time after the accident and I don't think I realized even then the permanency and challenges of his injuries. I was privileged to reconnect with David and met his son a few years ago when he came to Norwalk for a family reunion. I shared some family stories and photos that I had found in my father's effects. Although his physical body had suffered, he still had his quick wit and sense of humor that I had admired from afar when he was my “famous” (in my small town, anyway) sports hero. I was so sorry to read of his latest struggle and death. God Bless you all and especially MaryAnne.

“ MaryAnne-

All the words that come to mind are simply inadequate...as is my personal knowledge of David. It's clear from reading some of the memories written here that the world has lost an incredible human being. The smile on his face is genuine and infectious. Seeing you together at MoM a handful of times was the closest I came to knowing either of you and yet what I witnessed was both beautiful and too rare. There was a quiet sense of belonging, togetherness and deep love between you and David. It was - and will continue to be - truly inspiring. My heart hurts for you, your families and all the friends who will feel this loss so profoundly in the coming months and years. You are not alone.

“ Maryanne and family,

My heart and prayers are with you all, but I still have to smile when I think of Dave. We shared so many good times way back when. I need to brush up on the statute of limitations before I share them all. Our hunting trip that ended with me losing my drivers license; the high school antics; the card games; our trip to Vegas, the Jaycees. Dave was always just smiling, soaking it all in and seeing the best in everyone ... seeing the humor in it all. I will carry him in my heart. Love to you all!

“ This is my American family. I will never forget how they make me feel since the beginning in a country that was not mine. Everything was easier because of them. I felt the warmth and welcome that I never expected and they made hard to go back in Italy at the end of the year. Dave was a silent but strong presence. I will never forget the Sundays watching futbol or the Christmass dinners. Death leaved you helpless and now that a piece of my American family flew away not being able to give even a hug is unbearable. Love Marika

“ Hello, team. First, thank you for the notes, and the food, and the flowers and all the other ways we've gotten to feel held and loved and appreciated. A note that we're all holding up pretty well and also wooboy. Ouch. I wanted to take a quick second to add this to the wall. Because I've watched it a LOT the last few days, and I think this is pretty much exactly how a lot of us remember my dad? This was one morning at Seattle Children's Hospital, when we'd gone to visit Maggie and David Anthony. (We've often been the people laughing at the hospital, it's...kind of our thing.) Anyway, I asked Dad how his orange juice tasted and he said "nnn. A little bit...jimmy?" And neither of us knew what he meant, but yes we did? And then this happened. Not our first time, and not our last. But this is one minute and eleven seconds of easily one of the most beautiful things that's ever happened to me.
