“ I met Dennis earlier this year when he came to work on my carpet. We talked about life, families, etc. At that time he complained of a sore neck, and I encouraged him to get it checked out. Later we spoke briefly on the phone, as he told me what was wrong. We only spoke once or twice after that.

It was obvious from the start that Dennis is a good person with a good heart. Though it was only for a short while, I am fortunate to have met him. To all whose life he touched, please accept my condolences.

“ How quickly the direction of life can turn - it doesn't seem 5 minutes since we bumped into one another, after so many years, outside the Charco Broiler. What a surprise! And then Mary's message to me when I saw her but 4 short months ago. You will be remembered by me for your great support of Mary and your ever cheerful greeting.

You are in our thoughts Mary

“ Dennis will be sorely missed. He always bore a smile and a kind word. You always knew when he was in the store by the sound of his laughter. His sense of humor and love of life was infectious. We will miss his regular visits to Western Trade Supply and our condolences go out to his family, especially his wife whom he spoke to highly of.

“ Dear Uncle Dennis...I always love you. I wish that you are still alive. You were very nice to me when I came to visit. It was great riding in your nice big boat. I love you more than your nice boat. I will miss hugging and kissing my best Uncle and Godfather ever in the world. Now, I have a Guardian Angel I know by name. Happy fishing up there! I bet you are catching some whoppers now! Love you always,
Aya

“ We were brought together in this life as brothers. As young siblings, we had our differences that made us fight and our love that bound us together. As we grew up our squabbles faded away with time. I always wished we lived closer to share more precious moments together. Your greatest passion after your family was fishing. When you were very young, this was even apparent. You fought so hard to stay with us but your soul had a different agenda. I know that you touched many lives and your love was pure. Your experiences of the spirit were fulfilled. After you opened your eyes with God you came straight here to comfort me and to let me know you had passed. Your spirit is now with our our Eternal Father and is without any earthly concerns. This life is but a whisper in the journey of the soul. I will always love you Big Brother...Daniel

“ Mary, I am sorry for Dennis. I know that this is real hard for you. I lost 3 brothers and I still feel how you feel for losing a loved one. Time will never make the pain go away; you just kind of get used to it. I am sorry that I could not come to see you; but my love and thoughts are with you. I know that Dennis is in much better place. And I am thankful that he never suffered as much as most of my cancer patients did. Dennis was a great man with the most generous and kind heart. He was also fortunate to have you to love and cherish. If there is anything I can do for you, please do not hesitate to let me know. I will help you as much as I am able. May God bless you. Keep in touch...love, Evelyn

“ The 22nd, of October, the day of Dennis' passing: Numerology is the study and belief that numbers have a divine purpose in the Universe and are symbolic forms of messages and hidden knowledge. The books of Ezekiel, Enoch and IV Ezra contain references to numbers and their importance (beyond math). Note that there are only 4 master numbers: 11, 22, 33, 44.

My much loved brother, Dennis Wayne Considine, passed away on October 22, 2008. The master number 22 holds a unique position (stands by itself) in that it represents the God force. Twenty-two is the ancient numerical value for a circle and implies completion, fulfillment and cyclicity. Cyclicity is the essence of life in which there is NO ending, making the 22 the life force before entering this life too. In other words, 22 is to complete the full cycle and step once more beyond the present life.

A circle, which 22 represents, also represents the Alpha and Omega by which the Lord described Himself in the Bible. The 22 is the super-conscious (God consciousness), with room to always take one more step. We never come to the limit of our potential! The sun, for example, as the universal radiant energy, is eternally rising; it can never reach its zenith. Look at how mountains reflect attainment by melting to feed the streams and valleys. Dennis went to an awakening or an elevation to a higher consciousness. He went to God.

Regardless of how much experience Dennis came to this life with or learned in this life, he was definitely pure in spirit; we know this by his good heart. Both scripture and Eastern teachings consider super-conscious (God Consciousness) as a perfect blend of spiritual awareness and an understanding of how to properly use earthly material offerings and our physical body (space suit!). It is believed by many cultures that once this perfect understanding is achieved the individual no longer is bound by the earth. Dennis' life experience helped us to experience (learn) a deeper reverence and respect for the physical world. Dennis helped us to remember that there is a perfect place, and I am thankful that I know he is experiencing this perfect place (heaven) beyond this life.

One of Dennis' greatest rewards in this life was the woman he chose for his wife. Mary was Dennis' anchor, interpreter, confidant, safety net, sweet warmth and 'bestest' friend. With such a partner Dennis realized far more dreams than he could have ever hoped for and a myriad of blessings that he will keep in his soul to illuminate his new journey. The soft and pleasant, tough and harsh, powerful and unbreakable bond that Dennis and Mary will have for all eternity is made of the shared memories and treasured times in their joined time and space to experience loving another as yourself.

I will always love and remember my brother and I HONOR him for his bravery, courage and good deeds. I believe the blessings he gave us, even in the form of challenges, will reverberate throughout time and space and forever be a part of our soul's history and the currents of life in this world. Whether we were climbing a tree together as young children behind our house in Pine Lake Georgia or hiking in the beautiful mountains or fishing in the waters of Colorado, that Dennis loved so much, we are also eternally connected. Our earthly physical connection will be as short and as fast as the passing of earthly time. I thank my Heavenly Father for the privilege of family, in this life and forever, including my wonderful, and much loved, parents and brothers.

*Dennis' Sistor,
Jeanne*
