

Edward "Eddie" Faillace

March 5, 1927 - June 30, 2014

Edward Joseph Faillace passed peacefully with family at his side after a sudden illness on June 30, 2014 in Fort Collins, Colorado. Edward (Ed) was 87 at the time of his death. He is survived by son Joseph Faillace, of Phoenix Arizona, daughter Linda Marsh of Fort Collins Colorado and grandchildren Kelly, Eddie, and Natalie.

Ed grew up in White Plains, NY and played football on the high school team where even Joe Paterno knew him as the "White Plains Flash". He graduated high school in 1945 and entered Notre Dame College on a football scholarship the same year. Ed's time at Notre Dame was shortened by the draft into the Army at the end of World War II where he served 2 years and was honorably discharged in 1947. In 1952 Ed married Pauline Di Buono and they were married for 59 years until Pauline's death in 2011.

Ed spent his life in many vocations including building custom homes in Quebec Canada; restaurateur in Quebec and Scottsdale Arizona; and insurance agent. But his most passionate vocation was writing columns for the Triangle Review (a former Fort Collins weekly) and being one of the founders and writers of the Fort Collins Forum a monthly newspaper.

Ed was a Christian political activist and used his pen to speak his piece and views on local Fort Collins issues and City Council decisions. He had many fans and many adversaries, but whichever side you stood on, you knew where Ed stood and what he stood for. He accepted Jesus Christ as his Savior in 1980 and was baptized at the First Assembly of God in Phoenix Arizona.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Ed's name to Pathway's Hospice and/or Animal House of Fort Collins.

Service arrangements are pending at this time.

“ Edward "Eddie" Faillace

October 25, 2022 at 06:14 PM

“ Dear Linda and Bill, and Family:

We are genuinely grieved for you and your family, at the loss of Eddie. As you well know, he was truly a masterpiece, crafted from the Hands of the Potter. While we truly do grieve his passing, and the void now left in our hearts, like you, we have NO doubt that we will see Eddie again, and join with him in the celebration of the Wedding Supper and, most importantly, with his--and our--Lord Jesus Christ! Indeed, what a day that will be...

Our prayers and thoughts are with you... as you cleave to, and grieve with, one another. We are encouraged to know that you have found solace in confidently knowing that Eddie is now in the place he most intensely desired; a place far better than the safest and most coveted place in all creation: in Heaven and, literally, walking with Jesus... for all of eternity!

*With love, in Christ,

“ After my son Bonnie died, Eddie was a constant loving friend. In business he was always having some great wisdom to share even when we lost $2,000,000 in that scam!! Love this unique guy!!

“ What a fantastic man, Eddie was. We were friends for a very long time. He was a fine Christian man with a sense of humor that even made him laugh at his own puns and jokes. Eddie loved our community -- he loved bragging about the things that make it great, and complaining (to anyone who would listen) about the things that needed improvement. His infectious smile, creative mind, and twinkle in his eye were gifts that never seemed to stop. Blessings to Eddie's family. God's generosity was clearly poured out upon you through this spectacular man. There goes a great American -- in every possible way, that's what Eddie was. May he rest in eternal peace.

“ I have lost a friend with the passing of dear Eddie. I met Eddie many years ago at our restaurant, The Egg & I. As you know, he was quite the character. God doesn't make men like Eddie much any more. It didn't take long in his company for him to tell you what he thought of you and share who he was. He was a regular guest and many people came to know him there. He definitely was the center of attention in any place he was in. He was passionate in life and for his love of the Lord.

Eddie never stopped dreaming, sharing his zest for life and trying to achieve what he wanted to do in Ft. Collins. He never came to a door he couldn't have opened for him. He made you smile when you saw him. Over the years of our friendship, he taught me a lot about perseverance and dedication. I will certainly miss him and never forget him. I'm sure that he is in Heaven today telling God what he could be doing about this and that.

“ I am so sorry to hear of Eddie's passing, he was a very impressive man. Eddie always had a plan and was perpetually upbeat no matter the situation. I don't subscribe to the paper and rarely buy one but I did today only to read this obituary; I think God's hand may have still have been at work through Eddie. Eddie gave me the opportunity to write a monthly column for his paper which I thoroughly enjoyed, whether it was to throw barbs at the leftists or present a viewpoint from the blue collar world that Ft Collins residents were rarely exposed to. May God's comfort be upon your family and bless your soul Eddie.

“ I always remember Eddie for his great sense of humor and writing of the article called cruising with Eddie in the Triangle review. He was a good spirited person and love to socialize.it seemed like she never slow down although I have not seen him in a few years. I have a great admiration for him. Many times I was mentioned in Eddie's Triangle Review articles about the City of Fort Collins trying to push a bike trail through the middle of our LaPorte farm. His humor probably made the City Council realize how silly the concept was, and eventually they proceeded to go around the farm. His company was greatly enjoyed on earth and he will be missed.
