“ To Tom, Susan, Dan and Ben,
My heartfelt condolences on the loss of your mother. I am sad that I am unable to attend services to honor Liz and hug each of you in person, but know that I am with you in my heart.
Your mother was my friend and neighbor for 17 years and I admired her accomplishments and sought her sound advice on many occasions. I remember her outstanding eggnog at holiday time - she made egg rolls from scratch ! - and the only person I knew who grew potatoes in her backyard garden - how Irish ! She was so low key with her many talents, but I definitely noticed being right next door.
Her commitment to the health of ordinary people in low-income areas was commendable. The country needs more like Elizabeth Howarth - she was the best of us.
Rest in peace Liz.

“ Liz loved to read and the Library was not very far away. One day a man came to the door and wanted all the books that she had taken out and never returned. Needless to say he didn't want us to take out any more books . She would send money to Fr. Tom when he was in the seminary although she hardly had any herself. When she was in Korea she brought home music from that area and I remember thinking it was the strangest music I had ever heard.
