

Gregory J. Peterson

February 1, 2026

Gregory James Peterson passed away peacefully on February 1, 2026, in Fort Collins, Colorado, surrounded by his loving family. He proudly called Loveland, Colorado home.

Greg grew up in Breckenridge, Colorado, where the mountains shaped both his spirit and faith. He was a lifelong skier and hiker, finding God most clearly in the stillness of the mountains.

Teaching and coaching basketball were his ministry. Over five decades, Greg shaped countless lives with patience, integrity, and compassion. He taught at multiple schools, including Loveland High School, Bill Reed Middle School, and Front Range Community College.

As a basketball coach, Greg led the Loveland High School women's program and continued coaching through his daughter's club team. In later years, he also treasured the opportunity to briefly coach his granddaughter in soccer, sharing his love of the game and time together on the field.

Above all else, Greg treasured his family. His greatest joy came from time spent with those he loved, sharing laughter, encouragement, and meaningful moments together.

He is survived by his siblings Rick Peterson, Gretchen Schlechten, and Mathew Peterson; his children Katherine Rasnic and Brett Peterson; his beloved granddaughters Hayden Rasnic and Hazel Rasnic; his best friend Carol Peterson; and his son-in-law Joseph Rasnic.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Jim Peterson and Joanne Peterson.

“ Greg was the absolute best math teacher I have ever had. Greg went above and beyond in all regards from making sure every student was included and understood the material, to giving advice and lessons for the world beyond academics. When I met Greg I was at a very unconfident time of my life. I met Greg in the lowest level math class offered at Front Range where he was my professor. Out of high school, I was horrible at math but had dreams to become an engineer. Greg taught me the basics and got me back in the saddle for math, even giving me a love for the subject. Without Greg I wouldn't have continued on the path of engineering and made it to Calculus 3 where I am currently. Greg also talked to me alot about his life and hobbies. Growing up with no father, I found some comfort within Greg's big papa bear personality. Greg made a huge impact on me during the semester we had together and I will never forget how much he inspired and taught me. May he rest in peace, hopefully hes enjoying the golf course in heaven.

“ Greg was the absolute best teacher. I will miss him dearly. His math class is one of my fonest memories of college. The world is a richer place because of him.
