“ Holly, I met you over 15 years ago when I was just a kid It is still hard to believe you are gone, you grew to be apart of our family and for that I am grateful. I was so saddened to hear about your passing and I pray that you did not suffer. I still remember sitting in your white suburban as a kid watching you work your magic creating beautiful gardens, I can still smell the dirt, mulch and beautiful flowers. I used to love going to work with my dad and brother because I knew you would always make the BEST lunch! I still have the baking tins, sewing machine and so much more you handed down to me once you knew I loved to bake and cook. The last time we spoke you called to ask my mom for her Spanish rice recipe, you were such an amazing cook! Holly you will never be forgotten. I hope you knew we love and miss you dearly.

With so much love, the Ceja family.

“ Holly, I'm saddened to learn of your passing after the fact. You were a light in church with Alan, in helping with events with the kids, decorating everyone's lives with your flowers and gardening and in pursuing the nutrition we all know we needed. I hope you and Alan are whole and happy together. Much love, the Bolton Family, Novato, Ca

“ Weeks after Holly's passing, I still struggle to believe it is so. I met Holly in 1979 in Pacific Grove through my sister, Patti Greene, where they both lived at the time. Holly remained Patti's friend for all those years and attended lots of "Taylor family" events. I never knew her to show up anywhere without food, drink and flowers. She was the giver of the longest, warmest hugs I've experienced. She truly cared about her friends and family and always had time to listen to my long-winded phone calls, complaining about one thing or another. To realize I will never see her again is devastating. I'm heartbroken at the thought that she suffered. I will never forget her and will hold her memory forever dear. My heartfelt sorrow for us all, most especially her family. Thank you, Holly, for being you ...one in a gazillion.

“ Holly & I met about 35 years ago while we were on the city bus returning from work. Our eyes met & that was the beginning of our friendship. She introduced me to Patti Taylor Green (RIP) & through the years, many moves & Holly marrying Alan Sergy (RIP) we remained steadfast friends. It was always a treat to visit Holly & Alan. Ever the consummate hostess & host they epitomized the saying ‘mi casa es su casa’. Between Holly’s unbelievable cooking skills & Alan’s one liner observational zingers we shared many memorable meals together while toasting to our special friendship. Holly had a way about her that endeared her to all who had the pleasure to know her.

*Candles burning light your way,
Your gentle spirit wrapped in its warmth
Guiding you to those who went before.
I miss you like crazy my dear friend.
See you on the other side 💕💕*

“ I am so sad to hear that Holly passed away. She was a loving, gifted woman who was generous with her talents and hospitality. Her meals were fabulous. She could take a simple meal and put her spin on it and it became a gourmet extravaganza. When she moved to Colorado I wasn't able to see her, but enjoyed our phone visits. Holly made an imprint on my heart that will always be remembered.

“ I had no idea that sweet Holly passed away. Pat Barkett and I have been trying to reach her and discovered this site. I have wonderful memories of Holly's generous hospitality, creativity and love as she shared her gifts. She will always be in my heart as the wonderful independent woman she was. Feeling sad.
