“ I don't know what I can say that hasn't already been said. I was saddened to hear of Dale's passing. He is a very big reason why I am where I am today in my life and my professional. He helped me develop the skills for design that I use every single day. More than that, I considered him a friend. He was an encouraging teacher who loved his students very much - right down to the last day. He was always quick with a smile and always had time for a story.

I'll never forget the time we were camping in Red Feather and I called him up to see if we could drop by and get some water. I used my first name, Daniel, instead of my nickname, LT, so he didn't realize who it was. "There's a water pump by the post office" was the extent of the conversation before the call ended. Only a week later did he realize it was me who had called. He laughed so hard and apologized profusely. "You said your name was Daniel. You should said LT! I didn't know why some guy named Daniel was randomly calling asking for water."

He taught me so much and was a great friend. I wish we would have had more time to talk this past year. I'm going to miss him greatly.

“ *I am so very saddened to hear of Dale's passing.
As a former student who started a second go round in college in her 50's there were two men at Front Range who not only mentored me but help me to see that it's never too late to chase your dreams.
Dale was one of those men.
I will be forever grateful for his help, guidance, direction and friendship and will never forget how he shared those gifts with me.
He was a wonderful, gifted teacher and man who I know will be remembered by many for years to come.
My sincere condolences to Marjorie, family and loved ones.*

“ From Dale's brother Rory
I would like to say a few things to honor my brother and his most talented and gifted life.
If you knew Dale at all you knew him as a talented, gifted and honorable man, who's talents far exceeded his creativity and art. Dale was a loving and caring husband, father, grandfather and the best brother and friend that a man could have.
I have no doubt in my heart and soul that Dale loved us all because he never hesitated to tell us time after time. I never took that for granted as I loved him too and he knew his family loved him so much.
Dale is now at home with the Lord. He will be truly missed but he will live on in our hearts and memories forever.
It will be truly up to us to try to live by his examples of love and caring for each other, family and friends.

“ I just learned of Dale's passing and am so very sad. I worked with Dale for many years at CSU. He was a gifted designer, a great teacher and just a fun guy. I left the university 30 years ago but still have wonderful memories of the times we spent together. I have a signed poster of his - stylized Canada geese - it has and will continue to remind me of Dale. Rest well my friend.

“ I am so deeply heartbroken to hear the news of Dale’s passing. Words cannot express the sadness that I am feeling because Dale was my teacher, mentor, fellow artist, and most importantly one of my dearest friends.

As a teacher, Dale saw potential in me when I doubted my own. I was fortunate to be given the opportunity to hone my craft under Dale’s artistic guidance. He took me under his wings and shared his knowledge, time and talent to make sure that I would become the graphic artist that I am today. Colorado State University and Front Range Community College were recipients of his vast wealth of knowledge for cutting edge design. Any student that had the privilege of taking any of his classes would attest to his superior teaching style. You were always a success in his classroom.

As a mentor, he supported me to start my graphic design business. His wisdom and encouragement will always be embedded in my business practices. Countless times, I would call him seeking advice or counsel, and he was always available. Dale had a listening ear when I needed to vent, and somehow he would offer a new perspective and send me in the right direction.

Dale developed my artistic eye for quality work which led to my love of art direction. I had the wonderful opportunity to mentor other upcoming graphic artists under his leadership. He would stress the importance of giving back to the community. Dale always invited me to his classroom (design studio) and provided a platform for me to share my artist’s journey with his students. He had a way of making everyone feel important.

As an artist, Dale’s talent was beyond measure! He was so incredibly gifted. He was highly admired and achieved many awards/honors for his artistic vision and art direction. His work was magnificent! He was very humble about sharing his work with others. He said it was his personal reflections. I have studied his creative style. To this day, I still don’t know how he created such masterpieces.

As a friend, we kept in touch by phone and occasional gatherings. He would share his family news, catch me up on his latest art project, share updates on the book he was writing. He would never forget to ask about my husband and family. I will miss our conversations and his thoughtfulness.

Dale has influenced my life in so many ways. I owe all that I am as a graphic artist, art director and business owner to Dale Rosenbach. I will forever be grateful to him.

The world is a little bit duller without Dale's splash of color. He always had a kind word, a happy smile, and a loving heart.

11•4•7 Dale, you will be missed!
