“Marilyn was the true definition of a friend. Never judgemental, always supportive in all of my endeavors, large or small. Her generosity knew no boundaries. In fact, she would become upset when you wouldn't let her help. When my mother died (2006), she was my rock. She knew the special relationship I had with my mom and how very much I missed her. Marilyn would listen to my woes and console me. I will always be grateful for that.

We had some great times and when she visited us in Florida with her service dog, Spice, it was a very special time. All the times we visited her in Colorado, she would always tell us, Florida money was no good in Colorado. She even bought a small TV for the quest room, so we would have something to watch. When we went back for the last visit, she told to take the TV home with us. We could never pay her for anything.

She spoke so fondly for so many years about her family and how very proud she was of them. We remember when the twins, Sara and Heather were born. how extremely happy she was. It wasn't long before she was moving to Colorado to help with the babies. All the stories we've heard over the years about those babies and their lives, make them seem like family to us. She was so very proud of their success and what beautiful women they have grown to be.

We will always and forever, remember Marilyn with such pride and reverence, to have been so blessed to have shared her life.

With love,
Diana, Sandi, Molly (the dog) and Baily (the cat named after her)
