“ Mary was a special member of our Women's Voices book group. Over the years we have read books and articles on a variety of subjects (theological, contemplative, justice). Mary always spoke her mind. Some books she liked and some she didn't but she always had something thought provoking to say. I especially enjoyed her sharing life in Chicago as a child. I am so grateful for the time I spent with Mary. She will continue to be with our book group through our discussions and prayers.
