“ I have so many memories of my Uncle Ron that will forever live with me. When I was young, I remember him coming to many of my baseball games, being there when I shot my first grouse, taking me above the Popo Agie falls and teaching me how to become a better fly fisherman, and accidentally peppering him with BBs while shooting at a sage grouse. I think every year we had a laugh about that one, thankfully.

I will however remember him most for being one of the most caring men I have ever known, his great laugh and smile, and for his adventure for discovering new places to hunt and fish and sharing those with family. Every time I hike into my favorite place to fish in the North Platte Wilderness and boaters ask how I got there, I think of my uncle, since he was the one who showed me the “secret way” in. I hope that if there is a heaven, my uncle Ron is not having to wait until Tuesday to go fishing and the bird hunting is incredible and void of people.

I will miss you uncle!
