“ I worked with Steven quite a bit and got to know him well. He was always so friendly and helpful to me. He was just amazing! I left Wells Fargo last August and wondered about Steven while I was off. I returned this past August and was looking forward to reconnecting with my friend. So sad to find out he had passed. I was always so happy when I was on a call with him because just by being there, he made it brighter and more fun somehow. I am so sorry to Steven's family and friends. I loved that guy. He was just a wonderful person.

“ Steven was my best friend, the greatest friend that I had ever in life. He was my friend when I had no friends. I used to joke with him and ask him if he'd be my life director, and he'd joke back and say I need one of those. Countless memories and good times.

“ Steven, you were a huge source of light in my world for so many years. It hurts knowing you are no longer in it, but I'm so grateful. Grateful for your friendship, your humor, your big personality, your bravery, your ability to have a great day when the world said you shouldn't.

And, for the laughs. The countless, endless, belly-busting, genuine laughs we shared while telling stories, creating mayhem, and just trying to be the best selves we could be even when we didn't know what the hell that meant.

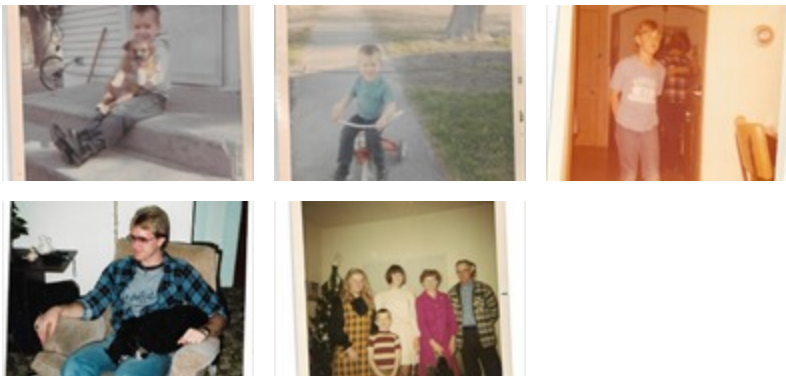

Thank you for being you.

I'll always remember - "Soy El Caballo!"

“ So many happy memories traveling with you for the Wachovia conversion. From crazy luxury rental cars, to pulsing night clubs, to beautiful beaches in Puerto Rico. We had such a blast and were bonded forever. You were my favorite museum buddy and food adventurer, and I'll miss you terribly. Love and light to all your friends and family at this time of great loss.

“ Stephen was a light of sunshine whenever he visited Atlanta and had a chance to stop the hotel he lite up the space. Stephen's smile was contagious and his sense of humor is what I will remember most. Prayers for Trevor and the family during this time.

“ Our hearts are heavy from hearing about losing Steven so suddenly. His laugh was hearty and unforgettable, as was his disposition. A true blue Coloradoan, his loyalty and love for his community was unquestionable. We're lucky to have met him and grateful to Trevor for sharing him with us even for a short while. Sincerely, Rita and Ken Costilow in Atlanta GA
