

Wilma Elliott

December 19, 1918 - October 14, 2008

Wilma Faye Elliott was born December 19, 1918, to Loretta Dantice and Vernon Hone Sanderson at the home they built on the Seven Mile Road north of Monte Vista, Colorado. Her parents met in the San Luis Valley after moving there from different parts of Missouri. Her paternal grandparents were Elizabeth Caroline Hone and William James Sanderson. Her maternal grandparents, James Lafayette Dantice and Eliza Jane Ash, died before their family moved to Colorado. After a short illness, Wilma passed away in the Poudre Valley Hospital in Fort Collins surrounded by family on October 14, 2008. She was a strong and vibrant eighty-nine year old, just two months short of her ninetieth birthday. Wilma attended Sargent Community School and the Sargent Community Church and graduated with the class of 1937. As a high school senior, she drove a school bus, as did her daughter many years later. She attended Colorado Women's College in Denver for two years and finished her degree at Colorado State Teachers College in Greeley where she was a member of a sorority. While in college, she joined the Episcopal Church. Wilma was a Sargent girl. As a schoolgirl, she played the piano and the accordion, rode her horse, and spent time with her brothers, friends, and a large extended family. While she was in high school, she met Cy/Thad Elliott who was a Monte guy. Being in Rainbow Girls and Demolay, respectively, they enjoyed those Rainbow dances in Monte Vista. Cy followed Wilma to college in Greeley. Wilma's mother insisted she get a teaching degree along with her business degree. She taught in Atwood, Colorado, and at Bear Creek High School in the Denver area, which was then a small country school. She also worked as a bookkeeper in both Denver and Monte Vista. Wilma and Cy were married in Santa Fe on July 18, 1942. After WWII, Cy finished his education in Greeley, and they returned to Monte Vista for Cy to teach in the Monte Vista schools. Over the years, Wilma and Cy entered the farming profession. They built a wonderful life for themselves and their three children, Debbie, Thad, and Dona. Together they raised sheep and grew potatoes, alfalfa, and barley. Wilma's bookkeeping and accounting skills were an integral part of the business. She made most of her daughters' clothes, to include a wedding dress. She lived moderately, accepted with grace what came her way, never complained, and always expected the best. She was a spiritual human being who savored the sunsets, the birds outside her window, and all the seasons on the farm. She took great pride that all her children and grandchildren finished their college educations. Wilma and Cy celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on July 18, 1992, with all of their children and grandchildren at the cabin. Cy passed away on February 13, 2001, at home in Monte Vista. During her lifetime, she enjoyed many activities. Bridge was one of her favorites. Many of her friendships were formed during WWII when the men were overseas and the wives got together for bridge club. At one time, she was in three bridge groups. She was also active in a local extension club. Wilma and Cy's potluck group began following the war and continued throughout most of their lives. When Cy was a Rio Grande County Commissioner, they enjoyed traveling to meetings around the state. They felt fortunate to travel to Germany, Austria, and Italy when Dona taught in Brindisi, Italy. They also enjoyed trips to Hawaii, Lake Powell, New York City, Washington, D.C., California, New Mexico, the Southwest, and the Southeast. A special trip was a cruise in the Caribbean to celebrate their fiftieth anniversary. Wilma was a Cub Scout Den leader, a 4-H sewing teacher, a P.T.A parent volunteer, and a Sunday school teacher at the Sargent Community Church. A great memory is the P.T.A. mothers teaching the junior high students how to dance in the school cafeteria! Wilma and Cy took great interest in their children and grandchildren's activities. Wilma always felt a need to be informed over the years using the World Book encyclopedia and World Atlas for information. She never entered the "google era" but she knew how to access information. She used her computer to do the books and to play bridge, and she enjoyed her daily paper, crossword puzzle, and Sudoku. Books, to include library books, enriched her life. Wilma's passion was her family. She was a matriarch in every sense of the word, and her family was devoted to her. Wilma made her home for sixty years on the Five Mile Road north of Monte Vista where she always welcomed her growing family. Everyday, Wilma looked to the west to see the beautiful San Juan Mountains beyond her flower garden and to the east to see the Sand Dunes and the Sangre de Cristo Mountains. She and Cy enjoyed picnicking on the Rio Grande River and taking care of their cabin at the Legion Park between South Fork and Creede. Wilma, like her mother, loved having a beautiful lawn and garden. Thanks to her son, she was able to enjoy her later years in her own home. She looked forward to her daughters' daily phone calls and the upcoming visits of family and friends. All will miss her homemade applesauce, rhubarb pie, and Danish Christmas roll. She was her family's liaison between the past and present. Her husband, Cy Elliott, parents, Loretta and Vernon Sanderson, special aunt Leafy Travis, and brothers Keith and Calvin Sanderson preceded her in death. Two daughters, one son, two sons-in-law, and one daughter-in-law to include Debbie and Tom Graff of Fort Collins, Thad and Deanne Elliott, who live in the home where Wilma was born and raised, and Dona and Jim Force of Annapolis, Maryland, survive her. Her grandchildren are David and Jamee Graff and great grandchildren Ellie, Ryan, Marc, and Addie of Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska; Amy and Tracy Terrell and great granddaughters Madison, Megan, and Katelyn of Medicine Bow, Wyoming; Kevin and Brooke Graff of Centennial, Colorado; Emily and Kyler Brown of Reno, Nevada; Carrie Elliott of Breckenridge; Laura Elliott of Arcata, California; and great grandson Kelton Force of Maryland. Her children, grandchildren, and community are the beneficiaries of her great generosity. Many nieces and nephews and special friends also survive her. A memorial service will be planned in Monte Vista. At that time, her ashes will be buried in the family plot at the Monte Vista cemetery. Watch the newspaper and email for notice of this event. The memorial may be in December, but the plans are tentative. Memorials in Wilma's memory may go to Monte Vista Carnegie Library in care of Wilma Elliott Memorial, Carnegie Public Library, Attention: Carol Lee Dugan or Becky Gossard, 120 Jefferson, Monte Vista, CO 81144

“ I love you, Wilma. I am so sad you are gone and sad I didn't get to say goodbye. Yet I am comforted to know your passing was so peaceful and that you were surrounded by love. Our families were (and still are) such great friends. What a gift to grow up with you, Debbie, my best childhood friend, and with your family. Wilma had many talents which were beautifully expressed in her obituary. What I remember most, is how comfortable and warm your home was in every way. In later years, it remained a joy to visit Wilma ---- always welcomed with a big hug, something to drink, and conversation around the kitchen table, while looking out the picture window at the bird, flowers, and the San Juans. I was always amazed at how very sharp she was and what a positive and grateful attitude she maintained. Somehow I would leave feeling a little lighter after a visit with Wilma. My mind keeps picturing that Miner/Elliott spot on the 5 Mile Road and realizing how still and quiet it must be there now. But don't you know----Cy and Wilma and John and Ardell are probably never really very far away, still watching over their "broods" from afar.

“ I'll always remember that quiet smile and gentle way of Wilma's-- even as you, Debbie, were cutting up your mother's wedding dress to make me a gift. She made you feel that whatever you did, or whoever you were was just fine. The chaos whirled around her as she enjoyed from the sidelines. It is hard to imagine almost all of the 4 & 5 mile teams are not with us now. It's a joy to look back and see the framework all these parents created for us. Debbie, Thad and Dona -- my condolences to you all. Debbie, thanks for being in my life.

“ Wilma was the sweetest, kindest lady and she will be missed. She always reminded me of my nana, Arlene Blakey, her close friend. I always heard such wonderful things about Cy and Wilma from my grandparents, Rix and Arlene, and I know both couples were close, life-long friends. I'm sure Papa, Nana, and Cy have been waiting for Wilma to join them for awhile and we can rest assure knowing that they are all finally together again. Love you Elliotts!!

“ What a fulfilling life your mom had! Her three children are testimony to the fact of what a great mother she was. Each one of you carries a part of her in your heart and in the daily things that you do in your life. You know she was so very proud of all of you. Her love of life and love of education/books is being passed on to each one of you. This is her legacy that you will now pass on to your own children/grandchildren/great grandchildren. What an extraordinary lady she was! When I view the mountains from farmland and see the birds in the air, I will always think of your mom. “Dona was the first teacher that I met when we entered our new school about 20 years ago. She has been a bright and shining dear friend ever since. I had the good fortune of meeting her dear parents and she was able to meet mine. Dona and I often shared the great similarities between her parents and mine. Both remarkable couples, loved by devoted family and friends. My Mom also had the love of sunsets and birds just like Wilma. My Mom also died at age 89, 2 months before turning 90. She, like Wilma, was vibrant and energetic. After my Mom's service we watched in amazement as two geese arose up from the water and parted as one headed toward the "heavens". It was symbolic to us of our Mom leaving our Dad. Just as in the story of the two birds joining, symbolic of Wilma joining Cy. I believe that some day two geese will rise up from the water and head upward together as my Dad joins my mother. Dona and I have been truly lucky to have such remarkable, dear Mom's. My thoughts are with all of her family and friends at this time.

“ I was so saddened by the death of Wilma. I have so many fond memories of growing up on the "Five Mile Road" and the Elliott family. Many years have passed since those times, but the memories will always remain. My sympathies to Debbie, Thad and Dona. You are in my thoughts and prayers. May the following poem bring your family peace in your time of grief. In Memory of You I find an old photograph and see your smile. As I feel your presence anew, I am filled with warmth and my heart remembers love. I read an old card sent many years ago during a time of turmoil and confusion. The soothing words written then still caress my spirit and bring me peace. I remember who you used to be the laughter we shared and wonder what you have become. Where are you now, Where did you go, When the body is left behind and the spirit is released to fly? Perhaps you are the morning bird singing joyfully at sunrise, or the butterfly that dances so carelessly on the breeze or the rainbow of colors that brightens a stormy sky or the fingers of afternoon mist delicately reaching over the mountains or the final few rays of the setting sun lighting up the skies edging the clouds with a magical glow. I miss your being but I feel your presence, In whatever form you choose to take, however you now choose to be. Your spirit has become for me a guardian angel on high guiding, advising, and watching over me. I remember you. You are with me and I am not afraid.
